DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: On page 5, line 8, "removable" should be --removably--, on page 7, line 8, "angles" should be --angled-- and on page 8, line 12, "coupled" should be --couple--. Appropriate correction is required.

The specification is objected to as failing to provide proper antecedent basis for the claimed subject matter. See 37 CFR 1.75(d)(1) and MPEP § 608.01(o). Correction of the following is required: The terms "writing pad" (claim 1 and 9) "non slick pad" (claims 2 and 9) and "channeling" (claims 5 and 9) do not have antecedent basis in the Detailed Description of the Preferred Embodiment.

Claim Objections

Claims 6 and 9 are objected to because of the following informalities: On line 6 of claim 6 and line 27 of claim 9, "angel" should be --angle--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 3751

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brass (as cited by Applicant). In regard to claim 1, Brass discloses a writing aid comprised of a writing pad having a magnetic layer 25 and a writing instrument having a magnet 16 on the bottom thereof wherein a user can adjust the length of the deployed writing tip 22 to thereby adjust the magnetic attraction between the writing instrument and the pad, i.e., the writing tip (as well as the rest of the pen 21) is movable within sleeve 20 of the writing instrument and should the tip be deployed to an extent such that a portion of the magnet is raised from the paper during use (should the tip 22 be extended beyond the lower surface of housing 12), the amount of magnetic attraction would be adjusted. In regard to claim 2, the writing pad includes a "non slick pad" 26 coupled to the bottom of the magnetic layer. In regard to claim 3, as a plurality of sheets of paper 29 are used, the sheets under the sheet which is being written on acts as a cover for the magnetic layer which would lessen the magnetic pull of the magnetic layer. In regard to claim 4, an attachment device 33 is "coupled" to the cover (via elements 32 and the top sheet of paper) for holding paper on the pad.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 5-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Claims 9-12 allowed.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The Kuhn reference is cited for disclosing pertinent structure.
